In the Senate, the House olff appropriating $3,000 annually for the propagation and preservation of food fishes was taken up and passed.

At a largely attended Democratic cau cus the work of revision was consider ed and it was resolved that the General Assembly should remain in session after the 7th of May at a per diem of one dollar per day until the revision is complete. This is equivalent to say ing that the legislature will adjoin very shortly after that time, as the Solons cannot pay personal expenses in Jefferson City at one dollar a day.

Governor Phelps sends a message to the Legislature to the effect that over a third of a million dollars of State funds are "unavailable"-polité word or stolen-and recommending the issuing of State bonds and the passing of a law providing for a poti-tax of a dollar a head on every voter, to meet the State's liabilities.

In the House, the committee on Constitutional Amendments reported a substitute for the joint and concurrent to the constitution providing for the removal of the capital to Sedatia. The resolution went through by a whoop ing majority of 99 to 10. It is asserted equally decisive majority. The citizens of referson City are preetly excited over the matter, but needlessly so, we think. The people of Missouri will never tote to revious the capital from its present location. The bill was afterwards reconsidered and the
